Engineers for MTV:

New MTV series "Hack'd" is looking for engineering students/grads, 19-25 years old, to form teams and compete to out-hack each other with creative feats of engineering.

Applicants must submit the following:

PART 1: Bio and Rez
Short bio giving us a sense of your personality and why you'd be great for the show. Send resume and bio to info@peacepoint.tv and receive a unique login to post your video on the Hack'd casting FTP site. Send this in early so we know you're interested!

PART 2: Mini Hack on Video
Showcase yourself and friends planning and executing a small scale mini-hack. Show off your engineering knowledge, creativity and sense of humor. Play to camera.

PART 3: About Yourself
To camera, tell us who you are and what you're about. We're looking for smart, funny, nerdy or sexy… just show us your personality. Videos 5 minutes MAX!

  Get your login early so you don't miss the submission deadline to post your video.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: Fri, Feb 6th, Midnight EST. Get on it, we want to see how fast you can whip something up!
